MENTORING & LIFE COACHING · INAUGURAL OFFER

Nicholas Scarcliffe

HARD-OF-HEARING MENTOR & LIFE COACH

MSc · Dip CII
ICF Level 2 Coach (In Progress)
ACC (In Progress)
36 Years Of Lived Experience

You work harder than anyone else in the room to follow the conversation. You shouldn't have to explain that to the person helping you, and you won't. I know that effort, because I have lived it all my life.

Born with profound hearing loss, I have lived every year of it in the mainstream hearing world, across nine countries: school, university, marriage, and an international career.

Every session brings you both the counsel of someone who has lived it and the rigour of professional coaching: one service, never divided.

BUILT FOR YOU, WHATEVER YOUR HEARING LOSS

TEENAGERS · 13+

Confidence: School & Life

Speak up in class and ask for what you need. Handle being teased or made the subject of jokes with a mindset that rises above it. Navigate friendships and dating, and use technology that genuinely helps. A parent joins each session or agrees in writing to sessions without them.

ADULTS

Confidence: Work & Life

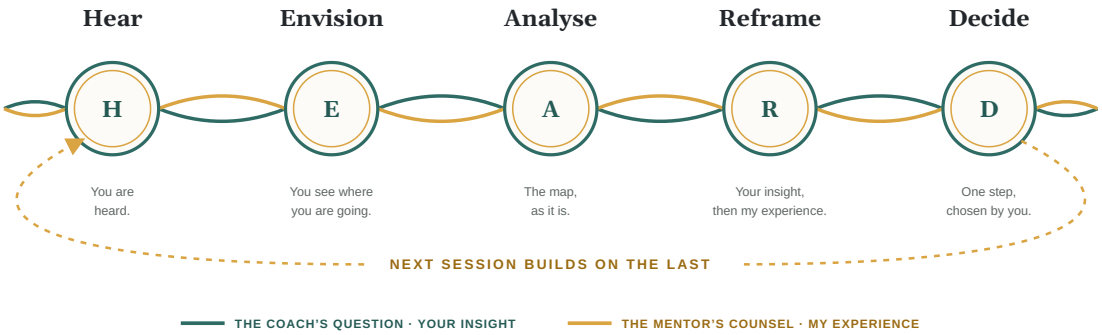

Adjust to a hearing loss that is new or sudden, and prepare for interviews, careers, and the accommodations worth asking for. Handle meetings and relationships with confidence, manage hearing fatigue rather than endure it, and build a life on your terms, not around your ears.

HEARING PARENTS

A Path You Can See

A diagnosis is a door, not a verdict. See what the mainstream path can look like, from first fitting to first job, through someone who walked it, and raise your child without limits. Clinical decisions stay with your clinical team.
